

SHE'LL BE ROSE QUEEN

Brunette and green-eyed Patricia Auman, 17, has been selected as queen of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, that city's celebrated New Year's day floral festival. A dramatic arts student at Pasadena Junior college, Miss Auman is five feet, two and a quarter inches tall; weighs 108 pounds, has a 34-inch bust, 24-inch waist and 35-inch hips—a figure the pretty coed keeps by ballet dancing, tennis, swimming and horseback riding.

PA NEWS OBSERVES

City snow plows and trucks were in action on the downtown streets early this morning, and much of the heavy snowfall has already been hauled to the Nashamock creek.

It should be the postal employees who are excited but it seems to be the general public also. One woman, instead of handing bundles of cards through the bulk mail window, handed over her groceries—pound of coffee and all.

The new postal guide issued, Tuesday, throughout the country, lists MacArthur and Nimitz in West Virginia, Halsey in Nebraska and Oregon, and Marshall in 14 assorted states but no Eisenhower. The guide lists four Tokovs and 13 Berlins, while Berlin, Alabama, grew tired of his name and changed to Sardis.

Excitement reigned on the Diamond around 12:03 this morning when several city fire trucks congregated there for a few minutes to get their bearings. The trucks originally headed East of the square but returned again to the same place "budding" together for a moment or two then shooting West on the hunt of a fire.

The various monuments and statuary on the Public Square, presented a very pleasing picture late Wednesday evening, as the newly fallen snow glistened from the lights of the community Christmas trees erected there.

Pa News noted one North Hill resident who was walking down the street pushing a snow shovel ahead of him, this morning. He had cleared a path through a block or more of uncleared sidewalks, and was still going. Whether he was making the path to benefit himself, or was a community "Good Samaritan," Pa News did not ascertain.

If preliminary estimations indicate anything, the record shows that Pennsylvania's birth rate for 1945 will be the lowest since before the war, according to the state health department. The department reveals that 136,667 birth occurred during the first nine months of '45 against 173,947 during the same period of last year.

Pa News has been keeping a "weather eye" out for the discharge buttons of local "G.I. Janes" but has failed to detect any as yet. Perhaps, it is more inconvenient for them to transfer the button every time they change attire, than it is for the discharged males of the service branches.

From a lady passenger of the east side comes a suggestion that there should be a vote of thanks to the seated bus passengers for holding the bundles of the "standing uppers."

Symbolizing 100 years of railroad progress, the 1946 calendar of the Pennsylvania railroad points out that next year will be the road's centennial. Depicted in full color are four present-day locomotives, the electric train, the heavy duty freight.

Pennsylvanians Digging-Out After Another Blizzard

Deep Snow Covers State As Storms Continue Intermittent Downfall

ENTIRE EAST IS BATTLING STORMS
(By International News Service)
Snow-lashed Pennsylvanians dug-out today from the year's heaviest blizzard, with strong expectations of seeing another white Christmas.

Throughout the state at least seven persons lost their lives as a result of the cold and the fiercely-whipped blizzards of snow.

Western Pennsylvania felt the brunt of the storm, with a white blanket of snow more than 15 inches deep burying smoky Pittsburgh.

Eight inches of snow fell in the Harrisburg area, while in Philadelphia the thickly swirling flakes produced a record for December 19.

Franklin Institute statisticians reported that the Quaker City was buried beneath more than 15 million tons of snow. They figured on the basis of six inches of snow to one inch of water, with one inch of water weighing 2,200 tons per square mile. Philadelphia's area is about 130 square miles.

As the snow fell, so did the thermometer. In Philadelphia, it dipped to 20 and showed signs of going lower. Harrisburg shivered at 10 degrees and Pittsburgh at 12.

"Municipal Emergency"
In Camden, N. J., Mayor George E. Brunner declared a "municipal emergency" and was granted a special appropriation to dig extra men and equipment to dig the city out from beneath the snow.

Three deaths were attributed to the snow and cold in Philadelphia, with at least four others reported in and about the commonwealth.

Report Battleship In Danger, Wrong

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—The navy said today that reports that the battleship USS Washington was in danger off the Azores are "entirely erroneous."

"The Washington is in no danger whatever," the navy stated, "nor has she been damaged. She is proceeding to New York at reduced speed due to heavy and rough seas."

"Her condition is excellent. She is at least 2,500 miles from the Azores."

Demobilization Speed 'Alarms' Gen. Eisenhower

Demobilization Of Troops In Europe Proceeding At Too Rapid Pace
MAY SLOW UP AFTER HOLIDAYS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Members of Congress today described Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as "alarmed" over the rapid demobilization of the Army which has now reached a peak of a million and a half discharges monthly.

The Army chief of staff discussed the situation with a group of Congressmen at a luncheon recently during which he indicated he felt that the demobilization of American troops in Europe was proceeding at too rapid a rate.

Unprecedented Rate
Simultaneously, Secretary of War Patterson expressed the belief that "the Army is being demobilized at an unprecedented rate, so much so that there is justifiable fear as to the disintegration involved and its effect on securing the peace we have won through so tremendous and costly an effort."

Reduced critical point scores for the Army and Navy were announced Wednesday, after December 31, the point score for the Army will be cut to 50 for enlisted men and to 70 for officers. Present score is 55 and 73 respectively.

Expect Senate Action On Bill To Release Fathers From Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—An end to the induction of all fathers was expected to be followed today by Senate action on a bill to discharge men with children from the armed forces.

Sen. Revercomb (R-W. Va.), sponsor of the measure, announced he will try to force a showdown vote on the proposal after National Selective Service headquarters ordered local boards to stop putting fathers into uniform. Revercomb said:

To Seek Action
"I'm going to do my best to get action on this bill. The only thing that can stop it will be administration opposition if it's strong enough."

Revercomb will amend his original bill to strike out portions which also called for a ban on the draft of fathers.

Local draft boards were instructed to place all men with children in Class 3-A. Registrants with less than three children may volunteer for induction but those with three or more children will not be acceptable for military service. The discontinuance of induction of fathers (Continued on Page Two)

Congress Ready To Take Recess February 15 May Be Fixed As Date For End Of Probe

Members Will Leave On Friday For Holiday Period At Homes
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Congress virtually cleaned off its desk today and prepared to go home tomorrow for Christmas.

Only two minor issues tied up the remaining "must" business, and they were expected to be ironed out today.

A dispute over the height of a flood control dam at Williston, N. D., blocked final action on the 2.1 billion dollar deficiency bill. A minor amendment dealing with immigration regulations was all that stood in the way of final passage of the bill continuing the second war powers act for another six months.

Public Is Asked To Forgive-Forget Kidnap-Hoax Lies

Mrs. Rose Carlan Makes Request On Leaving Hospital At Boston After Sanity Test
BULLETIN
CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 20.—(INS)—Mrs. Rose Carlan, 23, found sane by psychiatrists, was released today under $2,500 bail on a charge of murdering her six-month-old son, Ronald.

CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 20.—(INS)—Mrs. Rose Carlan, 23, asked the public today to forgive and forget the lies I had to tell in the kidnap-hoax death of her infant son, Ronald.

Mrs. Carlan made the request before she left the Boston psychiatric hospital to face a murder charge lodged against her after the child's body was found in a china closet in the Carlan home. Mrs. Carlan had reported the child kidnapped.

The attractive woman was confident she would be able to regain her husband, Navy MM-2 James P. Carlan, and their son, Jimmy, for Christmas.

No Insane Traits
The formal report on her sanity was not released, but psychiatrists said she had been adjudged sane. They said she was "bright and cheerful" and showed no insane traits.

Mrs. Carlan's appeal for forgiveness was in a letter she wrote from the hospital. She emphatically denied that her husband and relatives "know more about the death of my baby than I have told."

"My mother-in-law, my husband, my relatives and friends just were involved through my covering up," she wrote. "In my own way of thinking it was the only way, because I was afraid to hurt my husband's feelings and because I was panicky at the time."

Pennsylvania R.R. Conductor Apparently Fell Under Car At Lawrence Junction
Roy P. Wish, 64, of 140 East Edison avenue, was instantly killed about 10:30 this morning when he apparently fell under a car in a slurr he was switching at Lawrence Junction.

Tire Rationing May End Shortly

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Tire rationing will end about Jan. 1, it was learned today from sources in the civilian production administration.

Tire production is currently up to a schedule calling for 11 million units in the fourth quarter, bringing the 1945 total to 28 million, compared with 18 million in 1944, they said.

Production schedules in 1946 list 66 million tires, or 13 million more than were produced in any previous year.

President Of Commonwealth & Southern Corporation Speaks To Power Group Here
BUSINESS LEADER MOST OPTIMISTIC

JUSTIN R. WHITING

Summing a note of optimism for the new year, American industry, Justin R. Whiting, president of Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, addressed a group of department heads of Pennsylvania Power Company at a luncheon Wednesday at The Cavalier Hotel.

The luncheon was a feature of Mr. Whiting's visit to New Castle, the primary purpose of which was the consideration of the 1946 construction and operating budget of Pennsylvania Power Company.

Prosperity Ahead
"The near-term future," Mr. Whiting stated, "is clouded with considerable uncertainty, but as these problems are worked out, the country should enter a period of extensive prosperity. Although there has been a material drop in industrial activity since the end of the war, every indication following conversion points to good business in a period of at least three years. The successful working out of our present domestic and foreign problems will extend this period of prosperity by many years."

Nearly $10,000,000 Spent In New Castle Last Year For Food Survey Shows

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Food purchases last year exceeded a major survey of a city's standard of living, mark New Castle as a high quality market with a wide variety of most other commodities in the country. This is brought out vividly by a comparison of data furnished in the current sales management survey.

Money spent in New Castle for food last year—in groceries, meat, produce, delicatessen and the like—exceeded the average of other cities in the country.

Wage Proposals Of Ford Company Are Turned Down

Unions Make Reply To Offer Of Wage Increase By Ford Motor Co.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN AUTO SITUATION (BULLETIN)
DETROIT, Dec. 20.—(INS)—The UAW CIO told the Ford Motor Company today that the 12.4 per cent pay raise proffered to the union "would not raise wages to a point where workers can meet the cost of living."

Replying any pay increase based on the number of cars or trucks that Ford might produce, the union said Ford's proposal would raise wages to a point where workers could meet the cost of living.

Under the circumstances, would a Ford employee receive a wage raise to an indefinite period?

Reject Other Terms
Ford's request for one union district representative for each 2,000 union employees also came in for rejection.

That condition would defeat a basic objective of the company—the smooth and efficient operation of the plant, the union statement said.

It is impossible, in a single representative to handle the work problems of 2,000 workers, the union said.

On December 15 the UAW-Ford Corp. was met with the UAW-CIO and all the union's representatives under which UAW-Ford would like to end its bargaining relationship.

"Most Satisfactory"
Those who companies agreed the current negotiations on labor contracts with the UAW-CIO this week. At the last meeting, the union made a proposition of UAW-Ford and rejected the company's proposals. The company's proposals were rejected in a manner that made the union more confident.

But the Ford offer, despite a 15 (Continued on Page Two)

War Prisoners Forced To Aid Nazi Program

NUERNBERG, Dec. 20.—(INS)—War crimes prosecutors disclosed today that German prisoners of war were forced to aid the Nazi war machine.

The disclosures came as the international tribunal prepared to adjourn this afternoon for a two-week recess.

Virtual Slave Pawns
War prisoners became virtual slave pawns as Hermann Goering, Hermann Goering, the more an enemy, German soldiers to move forward, the German underground before the warping hands of Allied bombings.

So great was the slave labor demand in 1944 captured documents disclosed, that Gestapo chiefs found it difficult to keep in production while continuing the mass extermination of desperate European prisoners.

Defendants Unnerved
Also unnerved were German soldiers, who were forced to fight and were often used as cannon fodder in the defense of the German cities.

Spokesmen For More U. S. Cities Seek U.N.O. Site

LONDON, Dec. 20. — (INS) — Spokesmen for several more American cities made their bids today for the permanent headquarters of the United Nations organization.

James G. Stewart, mayor of Cincinnati, long and eloquently argued before a U.N.O. site subcommittee that his city was "a natural" to become the organization's headquarters.

"It is a symbolic American city," he said, "which thoroughly believes in the goals and aspirations of U.N.O. as enunciated in the charter."

James G. Shouse, general manager of Cincinnati's Station W.L.W., offered radio facilities of the station to the U.N.O.

The St. Louis and New Orleans delegations were delayed in reaching London to argue their cases.

Frederick O. Gensensner, who once made New Orleans his home but now resides in London, testified in behalf of the Bayou City.

A letter citing the advantages of St. Louis was read in behalf of the delegation from that city and Arthur T. Tutenbarger outlined the advantages of Ridgefield, Conn., another claimant for the U.N.O. site.

To Give Prestige

Byrnes' dispatch to London—an order which may prevent his return from Moscow before proceeding on his new mission—was reportedly due to a desire to make the opening session of the world peace organization outstanding in its prestige.

As originally planned, the meeting was due to be routine. Since then, the atomic bomb and atomic energy questions have entered diplomatic and military thinking and will be brought into the open at the meeting. American interest will also be heightened by the fact that the assembly will decide which United States city will house the U.N.O.

Discuss Problems

MOSCOW, Dec. 20. — (INS) — An official announcement revealed today that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Joseph Stalin conferred last night on problems currently existing between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Some of the problems discussed were in the agenda of the "Big Three." Some were not.

It was regarded as especially significant that Byrnes had a private audience with Stalin.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also called on the Soviet leader last night, but after Byrnes had left.

The Navy announced that further one-point reductions will go into effect January 15 and February 2 for enlisted men and for Wave personnel on February 2.

May Show Up In Europe

While the new point scores will make 837,000 more persons eligible for release, some Congressmen who heard Eisenhower said they would not be surprised if the demobilization of American troops in Europe was slowed up after the first of the year.

They said Eisenhower left the impression that he thought there should be a 60-day slow-up in discharging men now in Europe.

Eisenhower told the group that sixty million tons of Army supplies, which members estimated cost billions of dollars, had to be packed, weatherproofed and shipped from Europe to the United States.

The former Allied commander in Europe said that 300,000 troops were needed for this purpose and that demobilization would have to be slowed up or the nation would have to be satisfied with just leaving the supplies behind.

predicted more snow, while in Philadelphia the cold wave was expected to intensify as an aftermath of the blizzard.

Battle Heavy Drifts

Meanwhile, Americans from Kansas to the Atlantic Coast and from Macon, Ga., to northernmost Maine battled drifts in a mighty effort to shake off effects of the greatest storm to hit the area in a dozen years.

Snowfall within New York City was the heaviest since 1933, when a depth of 9.7 inches was officially recorded. And despite extraordinary precautions, the storm produced the following hardships:

All commercial plane flights were cancelled. Railroad trains were from one to five hours late. Subways crawled and underground stations became jammed. Eleven troopships were forced to drop anchor off Ambrose Light.

Buffalo Spared

Five deaths attributed to the storm in the metropolitan area underscored the savagery of its attack. Buffalo, N. Y., sorely hit by an earlier blizzard that buried the city under five feet of snow, was spared this time.

Gale force winds which made city dwellers turn up coat collars and leap across drifts, hit New England in the form of a 40-mile-an-hour blizzard that produced a foot of snow. There, as in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, North Carolina and Northwestern South Carolina, main roads were badly clogged.

Miami, Fla., meanwhile, experienced its own brand of winter, visitors suffered under a bright sun that brought the temperature to 82 degrees.

lathers with three or more children was announced last November 3.

Revercomb expressed belief that his measure has a "good" chance in the Senate. He believed that a roll-call vote—whereby senators would be placed on record for or against the proposal—would enhance its chances of passage.

Blocked By Administration

The senator charged that the administration has blocked his bill every turn but he said he would continue his fight to have the measure passed before Congress adjourns for the holidays.

Revercomb has waged a determined battle to get action on the bill. He succeeded in having the measure discharged from the Senate Military Affairs committee, which refused to approve it, and placed on the Senate calendar.

With the bill on the calendar, Revercomb explained, "I am now in a position to call it up for a vote. I'm going to try to get action on it today."

The Revercomb bill would authorize the release, "as rapidly as discharge facilities will permit," of every member of the Army and Navy who on the date of enactment of the legislation maintains a bona fide family relationship with one or more children.

to be settled today. Majority Leader Barkley was reported as waiting the Senate to come back January 8, but some senators were pressing to defer the return to January 14.

In a burst of speed Wednesday the Senate sent to the White House the measure setting up the machinery for United States participation in the United Nations organization.

It was expected to further complete the U.N.O. work today by acting on President Truman's nomination of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., as the security council delegate and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., and Connally (D) Tex., as assembly delegates.

The Senate also sent the liberalized GI bill of rights measure to the house.

Also passed, after an administrative amendment to extend it a year instead of six months, was the second war powers renewal bill. But it went to the house for action on a minor amendment.

that three of the remaining key witnesses would consume three weeks themselves.

Matched it was said, referred to Admiral Harold R. Stark, former chief of naval operations, and the late 1941 Hawaiian commanders, Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Gen. Walter C. Short.

If they want to rid themselves, they can do it, Brewster observed.

Another Republican, however, Rep. Keefe (R) Wis., offered the motion for the February 15 extension after Barkley had proposed a flat 30-day addition to the committee's tenure.

Minority members indicated little real concern over the present extension, operating on the theory that if the time proves inadequate Congress simply will have to give the committee another continuation.

Barkley was authorized to look for new counsel after Mitchell and his staff "made it definite" that they could not remain longer than early January.

places came to $9,733,000, or $700 for each man, woman and child. The rest of the country spent only $147 per capita on the average last year, while Pennsylvania spent $164 and the Middle Atlantic states $161 per person.

The volume of food sales in New Castle represents an increase of 82 per cent over the pre-war year of 1940.

In the three other principal retail categories investigated, New Castle also scored striking gains over 1940. General merchandise sales rose from $3,427,000 to $6,397,000, the lumber-building-hardware business from $1,137,000 to $1,478,000 and drug sales from $752,000 to $1,218,000.

MRS. TRUMAN IS BACK HOME TO GET DINNER

an excellent cook has followed her from western Missouri to the White House, has planned her dinner as in past years.

Menu To Include

Her menu included: Mushroom soup, roast turkey and rich, creamy giblet gravy, mashed potatoes, scalloped oysters, cauliflower, and pear-and-cheese-balls.

Topping the meal will be the traditional plum pudding with hard sauce and jelly cranberries. Mrs. Truman said she also would serve the usual incidentals—celery, olives, jelly, pickles, coffee, candy and nuts.

The Truman's Christmas tree this year will not be provided, as in the past 20 years, by Independence Mayor Roger T. Seamon, long-time friend of the president.

Tree Enroute

A Douglas Fir from the Pike National Forest is enroute to Independence from Denver. The 26-foot tree is a gift of David and Marian Wallace, Mrs. Sen. Wallace of Mo., Truman's brother, Fred.

The president will also eat with his 93-year-old mother, Mrs. Maria Truman, at her Grandview home, 30 miles from Independence. President Truman has often made it a point to eat with his aunt, Mrs. Joseph T. Truman, 86, at Independence.

Joseph T. Truman, 86, who lives across the street from the Wallace home in Independence.

"Welcome" signs are prominent among the roadside decorations in Independence.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 20. — (INS) — President Truman made it possible to make a possible demonstration at eating at least three Christmas dinners when he visits his home during the holiday.

There is no main Christmas dinner at the Sunnier White House, which will be used by his wife, and his custom is to have a holiday dinner with his 93-year-old mother, Mrs. Martha Truman at Grandview, Mo., and with his aunt Mrs. Joseph T. Truman, 86, at Independence.

MILK SHORTAGE TO END

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 20. — (INS) — The milk shortage in western Pennsylvania will be ended soon after January 1, a spokesman for the Dairyman's Cooperative Sales Association today declared.

Cream the spokesman said, will continue scarce until spring, however.

PATRICIA A. TAYLOR

banked with evergreens and cathedral candles, Miss Patricia Ann Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph
E. Taylor of 427 East Garfield avenue, and John Allan Brettell, son of Mrs. John Brettell and the late Lt. Col. J. B. Brettell of 105 Madison avenue, were united in marriage at an open church wedding in the Mahoning Methodist church Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.
Rev. Warren Bugbee officiated at the single ring service.

Music for the ceremony was played by church organist Mrs.
Alice McGuire. Mrs. Warren White, classmate of the bride at Westminster college, was the soloist, singing
"Because" and "Oh Promise Me."

Dressed in a street length gown of smoky blue crepe, fashioned with a draped neckline and puffed sleeves, the bride carried her great-grandmother's handkerchief and wore a sapphire in her shoe. With black accessories, she wore an orchid corsage and a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Doris Wilkins of Akron, Ohio, was maid-of-honor for her former roommate, wearing a dress of dusty pink with black accessories and a corsage of talisman roses and daisies.
Her sequined black hat was similar to the bride's. Donald Scoville served as best man, while the ushers were Kenneth Gibson, Claire Galbreath, Bob Caldwell, and Captain Warren White.

A congratulatory period was held in the church immediately following the wedding and a reception for about fifty guests followed in the Coral Room of The Castleton hotel.
The bride and groom left for their wedding trip later in the evening, expecting to return before January 1.

Mrs. Brettell is a graduate of New Castle high school and Westminster college, where she was a member of Beta Sigma Omicron sorority.
Now teaching at Union High school,
she will continue with her work
after the first of the year.

Mr. Brettell was discharged from the Navy on November 15, after serving for 52 months. The former
Pfc. Officer 2-c was in both the Atlantic and Pacific areas. He plans to continue with his college work at Westminster college in January.
The couple will be at home in their apartment at 105 Madison avenue after January 1.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. L.
Branch of Wellsville, Ohio; Dr. J.
O. Brown, Ellwood City; Mr. and
Mrs. R. M. Neal Koppell, Miss Fay
Jeffrey of Washington, Pa. and Miss Doris Wilkins of Akron.

ment of Woman's club was entertained for a program and tea at the home of Mrs. Alvah M. Shumaker, 308 Englewood avenue, on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Christmas arrangements of ever-

Nicholas R. Capillo addressed the group on the subject of "Conservation" which he defined as not se-ing but using wisely what we have.

To effect genuine conservation of land, forests, plant life, wild life, etc., he believes that education of children on the meaning of conservation should start in about the third grade of school, he said.

Mr. Capillo was introduced by Mrs. W. H. Humphrey, chairman of the department. Much interest was shown during a question and discussion period at the close of his talk.

Bomb Tests At Sea

Because every precaution should be taken in advance against clashing interpretations of the results, it is good news that the Army and Navy have agreed to conduct joint tests of atomic bombs against naval vessels. Cooperation between the services should insure an experiment that will provide trustworthy evidence of the efficacy of this weapon in naval warfare and permit valid conclusions to be drawn on the role of sea power in the atomic age.

It is good news, too, that the two departments apparently contemplate making a thorough job of this particular enterprise. The planning is already under way but the announcement notes that it involves large problems of logistics, including the assembly of many naval vessels, extensive instrumentation for measuring results, and assembly of necessary personnel.

The implications are that atomic bombs will be used against a task force and not a single ship, that they will be exploded both under water and in the air, and that in general the tests will be so designed that the answers to all questions will be clear.

Obviously, the experiment will be costly even though there will be Japanese ships available as targets and the Navy has obsolete vessels to its own that would otherwise be scrapped. But it would not be sensible to let reasons of economy stand in the way of the objective, which is to get facts that are indispensable as a basis for plans for the future. This undertaking should be considered a necessary expense in the business of providing for this nation's security.

The possibility exists that the experiment will indicate the need for revolutionary changes in present concepts of sea power. If such changes are necessary, it is imperative that the fact be revealed as soon as possible. Until the world has found the way to enduring peace, leaders of the nation's armed forces cannot know too much about the atomic bomb as a weapon.

Don't Be A Sucker

Mr. Walter H. Nyberg, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, comes a warning worth money to those who are tempted to be sucked into the words: "Don't bite."

Mr. Nyberg had a great deal to say about confidence men and their tricks when he was interviewed in New York City the other day. He said that the hand, he said, the slicker are often and baiting men to take the bait and some fall in the trap of trying some remedy. Mr. Nyberg said that there are plenty of good prospects and they should be taken in the hands.

They are doing it already, which is why Mr. Nyberg made this statement. He foresees the greatest wave of trickery in history unless Americans profit by what happened in the years after World War I, when the value was created out of approximately $400,000,000 in Liberty Bonds sold. This time, he says, the value is even higher and the characters and characters are therefore redoubling their efforts.

Unfortunately, there is no excuse for doubting that Mr. Nyberg is right. Even if he had no evidence to show that the sucker hunt is on it could be assumed, on the basis of past history and inflationary psychology that is obviously gaining headway, that old games are being handed out again.

Mr. Nyberg is also right in believing that education is the only answer and it is good news that a conference on safeguarding wartime savings will be held in January.

Are We Complacent—Again?

One year ago this week America and her war allies, dreaming less of a white Christmas than of a relatively early peace, were given a rude job when Von Rundstedt's armored divisions crashed the western line in the sudden, destructive Battle of the Bulge. From late October, 1944, it had seemed that victory was near. At home we began to coast toward peace. Draft quotas were reduced. Reconversion plans were started.

The Battle of the Bulge and the heroism of Bastogne—remember?—were away our own complacency? We were fighting mad again, and in one course the war was won. But have we forgotten? Are we now counting the job over that is finished? Word comes of disintegrating morale in Germany, of American troops being rushed home so quickly that everywhere in Germany there is a reviving spirit of arrogance. Can it be that so soon we have forgotten?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

New York Consumer's Council asks Congress to keep food prices down, and farm organizations want Congress to keep food prices up. Why does anybody want to run for Congress, anyhow?

Scientists say that the time will soon come when we can heat our houses by the split-atom process. Then when there is an explosion in the basement—look out!

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

The whole situation concerning loans to Britain and higher wages at home can be solved with the Kiernan jet propulsion economic plan. It is not the British Woods plan but it is as woody.

As we understand it, both the CIO and the British Labor government base their demands on "ability to pay." Both Phil Murray and Clement Attlee are striving for a perfect state in which a Louis B. Mayer or a Deanna Durbin can be printed into smaller profit-sharing units.

Mr. Mayer's pay envelopes last year crowded one million dollars ... minus $30 security for his old age. And Deanna Durbin knocked down over $300,000 with a set of towels which have not yet been organized ... but John L. Lewis' District 50 is looking into it.

Now the Labor District 50 has voted to take our dough but in a freethat about paying interest to a nation which has proved in the past that it does not expect to collect. Winnie Churchill says he could have struck a better bargain ... presumably meaning British rights to publish thousand dollar bills.

And the CIO is getting 30 per cent frozen mittens and 13 per cent offers. Nobody is happy.

Under my plan Murray would get the 4 billion, 400 million dollars to distribute locally and Attlee would obtain a two dollar a day increase for all British citizens.

It enough money could not be found for the purpose, Mr. Mayer would be required to forfeit his $20 salary security and plan his own retirement fund out of his meager earnings. Any questions?

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Need Quick Action On Atomic Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada has now added his voice to those who believe that only some form of world state with a surrender of at least some degree of national sovereignty, will save us from destruction through atomic energy.

While the headlines have not reflected it, there is a growing awareness here of the awful seriousness of the decisions which must be taken in the coming year.

At a closed session, members of the Senate atomic committee heard facts that were more sobering than anything that has been brought out publicly. While committee members have thus far preserved a remarkable discretion on what they were told, they have not tried to conceal the awe which the session inspired.

Bombs of a destructive power several hundred times greater than those dropped on Japan can be manufactured today. The manufacture and storage of bombs made of atomic material produced in America's two great atomic plants goes on.

The War department does not want the responsibility for production and control of atomic matter. War department spokesmen have said that repeatedly. Therefore it is up to Congress to act as quickly as possible to create a responsible body which would have wide authority.

Mistakes, perhaps irreparable mistakes, are so easy to make. The destruction of Japan's cyclotrons is case in point. It underscores the War department's desire to pass on the responsibility.

The cyclotrons destroyed in Japan might have been used in this country for example, for research in the humane sciences and especially in medicine. They are difficult and costly to construct.

General MacArthur at first was blamed for the order which sent CIs swarming over the big machine with blow torches. Soon it developed that he was simply carrying out instructions received from the War department in Washington.

Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson later accepted the blame, stating that he had acted on the recommendation of a staff officer. According to word reaching members of the Senate atomic committee, that officer was Major General Leslie R. Groves who is in charge of security and other phases of the development of atomic energy.

General Groves should not have to make such decisions. It is putting too great a responsibility on a single individual. Destruction of the Jap cyclotrons brought shocked and indignant protests from scientists. If they had been consulted, they would certainly have urged reexamination of such a step.

In his testimony before the Senate committee, Groves argued for continuing the manufacture and storage of bombs. To some his testimony seemed to be an invitation to the world to enter an atomic bomb race. He was boasting, in effect, that we were so far ahead that we could stay ahead.

Asked where in his opinion our security could come on in our present level, he said 10 years. Chairman Brian McMahon asked him if this was not a "guess" and he replied that it was.

Compared of course to the leading scientists who worked on the project, Groves' knowledge is elementary. These scientists have made much shorter time than a year and a half to three years.

Their word on such questions would seem to carry a great deal more weight than that of General Groves. Some interim form of control over atomic energy within the country should be quickly worked out. It will necessarily be a stop-gap measure, pending the international control which is the only course of safety. It will reduce the War department's responsibility which must be burdensome and somewhat hazy.

In the light of the heavy developments in atomic destruction, the potential harm so much greater than what the world saw last August in Japan's obliterated cities, it could be inevitable to reorganize the staff of Secretary of State, perhaps by having in Moscow. For the first time the issue of atomic energy is being put up to Russia. On the answer the future of our world depends.

New York Consumer's Council asks Congress to keep food prices down, and farm organizations want Congress to keep food prices up. Why does anybody want to run for Congress, anyhow?

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:58. Sun rises tomorrow 6:58.

Spring isn't the only time it's windy in Washington.

Of course eating will make people fat. Drinking is also a great help that way.

Doctors say Americans are doing too fast. Our traffic statistics say they are dying the same way.

Falling in love is easy, and so is falling out.

By mixing lawyers and horses, we get this one.

Uncle Eben was a willing helper in a riddle. The funder admonished him to answer the question, and he said:

"You drive a wagon?" the provocation asked.

"Nope."

"Remember you are under oath. Do you or do you not drive a wagon?"

"Nope."

"Then what do you do?"

"I drive a horse."

When you put the poor material you get a poor product.

A good housewife doesn't necessarily mean to be good looking.

BACKGROUND

Background has a lot to do with the result of school work. Take the term boy who was being praised on his entrance.

What is the outside of a wagon? A horse.

Up to the top of the head, the head is the most important part of the body.

By taking care of the body, a sportsman can take care of the head.

Home background helps in getting the most out of school.

It is easier to say "You are a fool" than to say "You are a fool."

No, said the boy. "It's wrong."

Because I can't get it.

Our morals are probably better than they were when we were young, but not enough better to brag about.

Heck says Joe Heck climbed himself on his own shoulders because he has survived six weeks.

EDUCATION

What's your boy going to be when he finishes his education? A fool.

An educationist, the afraid, said, "Folks."

That's nothing to be afraid of. When we quit our education, we're done from the neck up, whether we're 18 or 80. Some of the best educated persons we know are several old.

What difference does that make? "It's this way," he replied. "First time the took a lesson neighbor thought I was beating her and called the police. I want to be out here where I can be seen so they won't call the law again."

Such replies are most effective. They are a combination of an uncomfortable situation and at the same time indicate tacitly that you are withdrawing but not necessarily compromising.

Question: Should the bride and the groom stand and sing along with the organists at the wedding? Answer: All guests, including the parents of the bride and the groom, should stand and remain standing from the time the bride party enters the church until after the recessional when they all leave.

Present your problems to Miss Markel, who will promptly mail personal replies to readers enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Well Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia New York's little flower-mayor, is going to retire to private life at the end of this year, but—

—hereafter only New Yorkers had to listen to him but after January 1 of next year his voice will be heard in the ears of millions of people over a coast-to-coast network at a reputed salary of $100,000 a year.

The Little Flower will be a commentator on the radio. He will talk about everything—as he has always done—in his own inimitable voice and style. He will rant and rave and cry bloody murder—and he will do a lot of good.

Mayor LaGuardia and I have not been very good friends. He hates criticism and I have criticized him often. But I like the little guy and I wish him well. He has courage and isn't afraid to call a spade a spade. And goodness knows, that sort of stuff is necessary nowadays.

However, I thoroughly disagree with him on something he said at the press conference when his new connection was announced.

A reporter asked him whether he would be under any restrictions in his radio talks.

"Have I ever been?" he answered. "If I were I would have to answer and I told my wife that if I ever changed she should take out my old army 45 and shoot me."

Well, if I didn't change all the time I should ask my wife to shoot me.

Every right-minded person changes continually, and anybody who isn't willing to change is a stubborn, childish, self-centered, opinionated fool.

What kind of people would we be if at 45 or 50 we still were the same rogues and lightweights that we were at 20?

What kind of experience makes a man change?

What is progress but change? Would you go back to the life of fifty years ago? What if none of us had changed? We would still have keystone cops and horse-drawn carriages and radio and the airplane would be unknown.

When I mentioned that change is progress, I was told that change is progress. Where would progress be and the world would be all that other people are and progress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. Should

Maude Byrnes have come to Moscow with her husband, the secretary of state, when that heavily burdened gentleman traveled to the conference of foreign ministers?

Should Hazel Vandenberg accompany her husband, foreign Republican senator, Arthur Vandenberg, when that active gentleman travels to London to the meeting of the U. S. O?

The answer to both questions is unambiguously "Yes." All smart men take their wives to important conferences, especially if the wives are clever and charming. Because they want to share the exciting experience with the Little Woman? Yes, again.

But principally because a public official can have no a situation in which it is important that he should have his wife with him. He should have placed them there. I took the opinions of several knowing public officials.

Mr. Byrnes was without a companion when he went to Moscow. Her husband was not present. He feared the husband of the big man but because there was no little time to which to take the above all travelers to foreign countries are required to take as precautions against disease.

Mr. Byrnes is a woman and intelligent. She would represent America when men met effectively in America.

Also, Mr. Vandenberg would help to overcome the good qualities of American women in Britain. It won't be out in other London or Moscow this Christmas season. But heavens, you do not find out what is going on in these peculiar cities.

Astounding Developments Seen From Atomic Energy

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Like the magic touch of King Midas' gnarled finger, the energy of the atom may one day turn the lead of your kitchen sink pipes into gold.

But don't take the sink apart yet. There's a catch to it, cautions Dr. Clarence R. Hodges, professor of physics at Temple University in Philadelphia.

The supply of the precious metal will far exceed the demand of physicists can figure out the method of transformation, Dr. Hodges said.

Astounding Potentiality
This is but one of the many astounding potentialities of atomic energy, which hangs like a sword of Damocles over the world, he pointed out.

Scientists, Dr. Hodges said, have long hoped the atomic age would eliminate wars by crasing men's need for oil and greed for gold.

Possibly atomic energy will provide the power for mining these and other raw materials needed for production and trade from the ocean floor. Possibly the tiny but omnipotent atom will switch the "have not" nations into the "definitely have" division.

Individuals who look forward to a softer life in the atomic age, however, will have to consider the rays of nature and the "almighty dollar", Dr. Hodges cautioned.

Will Be Costly

"Atomic energy will cost twice the amount of oil," he said. "And when you figure on driving your car on atomic power, remember that the mechanism will have to be encased in bulky insulation to prevent the occupants from being disintegrated."

Little doubt exists in the minds of scientists, however, that research—and time—will propel Aunt Minnie into the Flash Gordon era.

Among the possibilities they see in their atomic crystal ball, according to Dr. Hodges, are automobiles traveling for a year on atomized atomic piles; planes flying at 1000 miles an hour; and moon-bound rocket ships leaving the earth every hour on the hour.

May Control Weather

Not the least of the potentialities of the atom, he continued, is the control of the weather. Uranium 235, manufactured on towers, could provide artificial sunlight. Fog-bank-ketting activities on air fields could be dispelled easily.

Nuclear energy might even shorten the 40-hour work week, Dr. Hodges said, cautioning, however, that mankind must be interested in providing employment and goods for consumption.

But so much for the misty realm of the future—it's the handling of the atom at the present that is most important, he warned.

Restrictions Are Worry

Government restrictions on atomic research are one of the current worries of the scientists. Recently 900 of them in Philadelphia formed the association of scientists to combat government regulation on research and development.

"It's silly to attempt to hide the atom," Dr. Hodges declared. "In a short while it's not already being applied for a marriage license in several nations may have the power."

All scientists should be allowed to work freely and independently for the good of mankind.

Science has harnessed the power of the universe by splitting the atom. But the problem of what to do next may well prove a splitting headache.

APPLY FOR LICENSE

Miss Jean Bartsch of New Castle and Joseph Miller of Ellipton have applied for a marriage license in the Mercer county court house.

A whirlwind microscope used by scientists to compare different groups of bacteria, permits one to look two ways at once.

What Endocrine can do to bless you with a younger looking face

Think of the added beauty a more youthful face and throat can give! Then harken to this: Scientific research has proved that ENDOCREME can, for most women, contribute to this desirable result in a way formerly thought impossible. Many thousands are now finding that ENDOCREME actually helps to improve the skin itself, not just its transient, superficial "look." This is because ENDOCREME, alone, possesses ACTIVOI. This ACTIVOI is a scientific replacement for woman's own natural skin-vitalizing substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps to restore the normal growth of cells and tissues. It thus aids the skin to become fresher, smoother, more alluringly "alive." What bigger value can any woman young or old ask for her cosmetic dollars? The great majority get big improvement in only 30 days.

Maria Nord and Gale Brown played the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah," an arrangement for two pianos.

An added feature of the afternoon was Mrs. John King's telling of the appropriate story, "Why the Chinese Have," by Raymond McDonald Allen.

After gifts had been exchanged, Mrs. T. J. Fletcher in charge, presided over a beautifully appointed table decorated with pine and candles. Mrs. T. J. Fletcher, president, and Mrs. Ralph Davis, vice president, presided.

MEADVILLE STRIKE TO END

MEADVILLE, Pa., Dec. 20.—(INS)—The two-months long strike at the Meadville and Erie plants of the Talon Company ended today with the announcement that the AFL-CIO and the company officials have agreed on wages.

Union officials said they expected a new contract to be signed within a few days.

The strike of nearly 350 tool and die makers made 3,700 idle.

DISABLED GI'S TO HAVE CHARGE OF ROADSIDE RESTS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—Secretary of Highways, John U. Shroyer announced today he has worked out a plan whereby he will place disabled war veterans in charge of each of the 67 Roadside Rests, which will be erected throughout the state by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

Shroyer also revealed he has already made a personal survey of more than 50 sites as the possible locations for these Roadside Rests.

The act authorizing the expenditure of $150,000 from the Motor License Fund for a Roadside Rest in each of the Commonwealth's 67 counties was passed by the last session of the Legislature. It states: "The Department of Highways is authorized and empowered to construct, erect and maintain roadside rests adjacent to state highway routes for the health, safety, welfare and accommodation of the traveling public."

The Roadside Rests may be constructed or erected either by contract or department employees at a cost not exceeding $2500.

Explaining his plan, Shroyer said

HAUSER HAS HEART AILMENT

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 20.—(INS)—Frederick E. Hauser, of Monessen, who is serving life in Western Penitentiary for the slaying of Anne Elizabeth Dreyer, the Fayette City "Sunshine Girl," today was reported suffering from a heart ailment.

Hauser, who was committed to the institution two weeks ago, recently wrote Stanley Wisniewski, jailer at the Fayette County Jail and complained of a heart condition and headaches as well as pains in his body "as if a knife was cutting me."

Fried Turkey May Be Yule Menu Treat

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—Fried turkey, a new and delectable dish, may be a menu feature over the holidays in home, hotel and restaurant.

Consumer demand for small turkeys was met in part by greatly increased sale of the "split" birds, or turkeys, sliced in half, for small families during the Thanksgiving season, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture announced today.

This practice may lead to delectable selling cut-up turkey the same as chickens have been sold for some time in pieces, by weight and priced according to the choice of cuts. Those who have tried fried turkey report it to be delicious. Since Christmas dinner without a whole turkey or part of a bird, the cut-up turkey, should be a welcome popular meal, be a Sunday dinner feature during winter months after the holidays.

Rare Operation To Be Attempted To Save Child

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 20.—(INS)—Philadelphia's "blue-baby," six-year-old Suzie Anello, was in Baltimore today to see Santa Claus—in the person of a woman doctor who will perform an operation in the hope of curing the child's rare heart condition.

Suzie has suffered from a congenital heart ailment since birth, a condition that caused her body to turn bluish in color because of insufficient oxygen in the blood. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anello, said numerous physicians gave her no chance for survival.

Recently, Mrs. Anello said she read of a similar case treated by Dr. Helen Brooke Taussig, of Johns Hopkins, in which an operation effected a cure. Dennis Conforto, another six-year-old Philadelphia, was the youngest on whom Dr. Taussig performed the successful operation.

Suzie was disappointed that she would miss her brother's birthday party tonight—but the good news of a possible recovery which would make her as strong as 10-year-old Charles overshadowed the disappointment.

Highland Church To Have Program

Roy P. Conway, superintendent of the Sunday school, is in charge of arrangements for the event which will take place in the intermediate room in the basement.

Sailor Reverses Atomic Bomb

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 20.—(INS)—A Portland sailor reversed the atomic bomb. Instead of wiping a city off the face of the earth, he transformed Midway Island in the Pacific from a lonely barren waste into a paradise of trees, grass and 30 varieties of plants.

When the last gun was silenced and the Navy began to establish a permanent base at Midway, the commanding officer looked over the desolate scene with its glare and shifting sands.

He sent for Alan D. James, carpenter's mate first class, who he remembered had voluntarily landed the naval station while he was taking recruit training.

James was made head gardener and nurseryman with sand stabilization and camouflage as his No. 1 objective.

For the sailor this was easy, because he worked on an azalea farm and for florists before going into the Navy.

He studied the ground, compiled data, and sent for 50 varieties of plants, all of which are today flourishing in what was once only coral sand.

Unwed Expectant Mother Can Keep Job, Board Rules

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 20.—(INS)—The case of Inger Merete Nordentoft, prominent school superintendent who disclosed she is an expectant mother, was tentatively decided today by a Copenhagen school board which ruled in effect that she can retain her post.

The board rejected a demand that Miss Nordentoft, who is also a Communist member of the Danish parliament, be removed from her job as head of a school for 1600 children.

The school superintendent also was granted a three-month maternity leave.

Miss Nordentoft had the overwhelming support of parents of children attending her school. Close to 90 percent of the parents voted their support in her fight to retain her job.

Greyhound Bus Strike May End

By International News Service
More signs pointed today to the end of the 30-day strike on Greyhound Bus Lines in 18 northeastern states, just in time to help out in the Christmas traffic.

Greyhound officials in Chicago said the employees were expected to return to work Saturday.

Official announcement of the end of the strike was to come from the union executive council of the AFL-CIO, International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Motor Coach Employees.

The action seeking to terminate the strike came from Secretary of Labor Schwelbensch who appointed a five-man fact-finding board yesterday to investigate the wage dispute.

He stipulated in advance there should be no penalties against the 4000 on strike and that any wage adjustments should be retroactive to midnight October 31.

First reports out of Washington were that the strike already was ended, but Sam Berrow, secretary-treasurer of the union, said in Milwaukee late last night that the Schwelbensch proposal would be submitted to the union's executive council in Chicago and that the council would make the decision.

Tapestry Project Near Completion

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 20.—(INS)—One of these days a tapestry showing of the 57 states and territories and their flowers and birds will be hung in Washington.

The tapestry project, now near completion in Salt Lake City, was originated nearly 14 years ago by Mrs. Cora R. Gibbs. Her idea was to have flowers of the nation's states embroidered by the wives of the state governors. Some of the embroidered blocks have been in her possession for 13 years.

Lately to be contributed to the project is the block containing Utah's state flower, the Sage Lily. Dedicated to Brigham Young, the Sage Lily block was embroidered in color on black velvet by Mrs. Henry H. Blood, widow of Governor Blood.

Asserts Hirohito Must Be Ousted

Noted Chinese Philosopher Declares
Elimination Of Japanese Emperor Is Need Of Day

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Dr. Lin Yutang, noted Chinese philosopher said flatly today that Emperor Hirohito must be eliminated, and the theory of God-emperor and supernaturalism in Japan must be destroyed forever if democracy is to succeed in that beaten country.

Whether it is done by forced abdication or by hailing the so-called son of God into court as a common war criminal is incidental, the well-known essayist declared. The main thing is to wipe out the divine race myth after Hirohito has outlived his present usefulness.

Dr. Lin told International News Service:

"I want to see Hirohito eliminated because he is the symbol of Japanese supernaturalism. He and his ancestors have been identified too long with the divine race myth, and so long as he remains he can be utilized easily by the militarists."

"Since his word is law for the Japanese everywhere, he could be held accountable for the Pearl Harbor attack. He could have stopped it in an emergency. If the Japanese plan of conquest had succeeded, he would have profited, it failed, and he would be held accountable."

"Anyhow, as far as that goes, the word emperor no longer is an appropriate title for him; he is merely king of Japan now, because Japan no longer has an empire."

Dr. Lin emphasized over and over again the necessity for destroying the myth that the bespectacled emperor is a deity.

Journalism Class Picks Top Stories

V-E And V-J Days Voted By Miami University Class As Top News Of 1945

OXFORD, O., Dec. 20.—(INS)—V-E Day and V-J Day today were voted unanimously as the top news stories of 1945 by journalism students at Miami university.

Virtually every top honor, however, were the death of President Roosevelt and the first use of the atomic bomb. The only two students who failed to vote them top places admitted the omission was accidental.

Also included in the "ten best stories of the year" were the San Francisco conference, Churchill's defeat, the death of Enrie Pyle, and the Pearl Harbor investigation. Winding up the list were Russia's declaration of war on Japan, the crash of an Army bomber against the Empire State building, and the General Motors strike.

Paris Christmas Is Costliest Ever

PARIS, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Parisians shopping for their first holiday Christmas in seven years, are doing it in the most expensive way in the nation's history.

Earlier Christmas has been associated by the black market forces one newspaper and the parents and relatives of this city's still children agreed disastrously.

The headline sensation of the Paris black market, have suffered their attention from foreign goods which are gradually becoming more plentiful—to the more lucrative field of Christmas toys.

As a result, toys are being sold at almost unbelievable prices to families who will not hesitate to ensure that the first Christmas Christmas will be a happy one for children.

You can buy a small metal toy with eraser-filler inside for $200. The same toy in America would cost $5 to $10.

Miniature soldiers are being sold for 50 cents apiece and upwards. At such prices few children will receive a very large army this Christmas.

Prices And Profits Statement Likely By Probe Panels

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—The government appeared likely today to avoid a formal policy statement at the White House level on the controversial issue of looking into industry's prices and profits in making wage awards.

Indications were that the ruling on this touchy subject will be allowed to come from fact-finding boards set up in the oil and General Motors cases. The panels probably will have guidance from other federal officials.

Verdict by Boards
Ostensibly, however, the verdict will be given by the individual boards and the administration will sidestep any fixed policy announcement which might seriously restrict the future effectiveness of fact-finding in major industrial disputes.

The CIO Oil workers union and the CIO United Automobile Workers union both are centering their demands for a 30 per cent pay boost around industry's ability to pay. They are demanding that the panels consider company prices and profits in fixing the wage awards.

General Motors and the oil companies are just as strongly opposed to having the panels look into profits, contending that they are not pleading inability to pay a wage adjustment.

To Argue Profits
General Motors and the UAW were to argue the price-profits question today in a public hearing before the panel set up by President Truman to attempt settlement of the month-old strike. The hearings then will recess over Friday for the panel to reach a decision.

Panel Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison said the panel will decide itself "to what extent evidence and arguments relating to prices and profits will be utilized by the board" in making recommendations on the UAW's wage demand.

Garrison conceded that there was "some risk" on one of the parties in the GM case withdrawing from the proceedings if the price-profits decision goes against it.

"We want to make the decision deliberately and carefully with full regard to its great importance," he said.

Lonely Vigil Of Bewildered Wife Has Been Ended

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—(INS)—The lonely vigil of a bewildered woman was at an end in the Pennsylvania Dutch community of Ephrata today after county medical officers removed a dead man whose widow had resisted efforts to remove the corpse in the hopes that it could be restored.

Shocked by the sudden death of her husband, Mrs. Alice M. Bishop refused an undertaker permission to remove the body of her husband, Harry, 68, who had died apparently of a heart attack Tuesday morning.

For almost 36 hours she kept a lonesome watch over the corpse and not until State Police Sgt. Skiles Smith and an undertaker forced their way into the snow-covered cottage did she abandon her vigil without protest.

A. J. Greenleaf, county medical director, authorized the undertaker to remove the body as a health measure.

VETERANS WARNED
HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—(INS)—World War II veterans were warned today by the state bureau of employment and unemployment compensation that they must present discharge papers when registering for readjustment allowances.

"If they do not have their discharge, their claim cannot be taken," officials stated. "A photostatic copy or any similar copy cannot be accepted."

Beach Beauty

RUMORS have it that the California Chapter of Commerce will use Mildred (Mimi) Berry, above, as a tourist "come on" for its beaches. If you can't quite make it to the coast, you'll probably see the lovely miss on the screen at your neighborhood theater because she is all set for an acting career. (International)

'Let's Sing' At Harmony Baptist

Victory Class And Choir To Present Dramatic Cantata Saturday Evening

Harmony Baptist church, New Castle-Ellwood road, will be the center of attraction Saturday evening, December 22, at 8 o'clock, when the Victory class and church choir present the dramatic cantata entitled "Another Wise Man."

The drama with its message of "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you," will be interspersed with beautiful music by the choir, under the leadership of Charles Harris.

Mrs. Ruth Moore, Mrs. Francis Currie, Everett Young and the Rev. Earl Collins, minister of the church, are in charge of the cantata.

This special entertainment will be presented during the regular "Let's Sing" program.

Project Planned By Jewish Council

Locations Service Headquarters, Non-Sectarian, Being Established Here

The first step in establishing a locations center—to help locate misplaced persons in foreign countries—was taken Wednesday evening at an open meeting held in The Castleton, with representatives from various social agencies in attendance.

The project is being undertaken by the Service to Foreign-Born Section of the New Castle section of the Council of Jewish Women of which Mrs. S. Skole is chairman.

With this purpose in mind, the Council of Jewish Women engaged as speaker of the evening Miss Dorothy Hershenow, area secretary for Pennsylvania and New Jersey for the National Council of Jewish Women.

Miss Hershenow, who knew the facts, gave an enlightening explanation of how the locations service is being accomplished in helping to find misplaced persons in countries abroad, and especially in countries which were ravaged by the oppressors during the war years. Miss Hershenow spoke only on the phase of location service commencing with an application. Contacts are made through the various locations service representatives, and in many instances the misplaced persons are found. Miss Hershenow concluded that various agencies have been cooperative and of assistance, among which is the UNRRA.

Quite a few attended the meeting last evening, and proceedings were underway at 8 o'clock with Mrs. William Cosel giving a brief history of the council. It is composed of 65,000 members throughout the country, and is a half-century old organization concerned in the highest ideals of American Jewish life, education, social welfare and service.

Mrs. S. Skole presided at the meeting and assured the group that the place of headquarters would be announced shortly, with the days and hours to be specified for the work.

Earlier in the afternoon, a luncheon was held at The Castleton at 1 o'clock and at this time Mrs. Hershenow spoke on administrative committee. Board members and executive board members of the council were in attendance.

The project is being conducted on a non-sectarian basis. Chairman for the locations service here will be Mrs. Ted Martin, and assisting will be Mrs. S. Skole and Mrs. William Cosel.

This evening Miss Hershenow will address the Council of Jewish Women at Temple Israel at 8:30 o'clock, her subject being Social Welfare Service Program.

Insurance Problem On Surrendered Japs

TOKYO, Dec. 20.—The Jap government had a dollars and cents (or yen) problem on its hands today as a direct result of its wartime propaganda.

The problem grew out of the report of some 40,000 Jap soldiers who surrendered to American forces but were officially reported dead by the government.

The government falsified the death reports in order to build up the myth that Jap soldiers never surrender.

And now insurance companies are looking to the government to repay some 40 million yen claimed on policies held by the families of the "dead."

Plan Telephones For Moving Autos

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Back seat driving will soon be possible without a back seat—from the living room or front porch, if you will.

The Bell system said today that motor vehicles alone 1,600 miles of highways will soon have mobile radio-telephone service.

Bell will begin extensive service trials at once along three inter-city routes.

Applications to start the first station for the Chicago St. Louis route already have been filed with the FCC.

Following the dinner, cards and music were enjoyed. Spurgeon Elder was the chairman of the dinner arrangements.

Florida is planning an auto ferry service to Cuba and other West Indies as a postwar project.

G.N.C.A. Bulletin In Holiday Garb

Atop the mantle are three service caps, one of a soldier, a sailor and a marine. The picture is done in color and is a cherry color for the bulletin. The art work on the cover page was done by the young ladies of the G.N.C.A. staff. In addition, each page is decorated with a Christmas cut.

In the window of the G.N.C.A. the picture is found in real life. And over it all, of course, a "Merry Christmas."

Court Martial Finds Capt. McVay Guilty On Negligence Count

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Charles B. McVay III was found guilty Wednesday by a naval court martial on a charge of negligence in failing to keep the cruiser Indianapolis on a sugar course when she was sunk in the Pacific.

A Navy court martial, however, acquitted McVay of the second charge which accused him of inefficiency for failing to order abandonment promptly after the cruiser was torn apart by two explosions last July 30.

Million To See Mummers Pageant In Philadelphia

Some 10,000 Members To Parade In Gala Welcome
To The New Year

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20.—(INS)—To the strains of the theme song, "Oh, Dem Golden Slippers," some 10,000 mummers will be on hand to stage their traditional parade in Philadelphia for a gala welcome to the New Year.

Hard-hit during the war, the pageant—an annual custom since 1901—will be augmented by some 2,500 veterans of World War Two who will trod two-and-a-half miles through the Quaker City in greeting the New Year.

"The mummers are like a sport," explained George B. McClelland, a Mummers association director. "Men who work at all types of trades throughout the year put aside their savings for this one day of frolic."

12 string bands
Twelve string bands, together with five comic clubs and four fancy organizations will compete on New Year's Day for the $12,000 in prize money appropriated by City Council.

"The prize money helps defray the winning club's expenses," McClelland said, "but it is not nearly sufficient to pay what each club spends."

Although the organizations keep their exhibition trends and dress shrouded in secrecy until the "big day," McClelland revealed that four of the string bands are spending over $20,000 for their new costumes.

Not even New Orleans' world-famous Mardi Gras out-rivals Philadelphia's New Year's Day pageant for color and excitement.

"Victory Parade"
"This year the event has extra significance," the director declared, "and we are calling it a 'Victory Parade' with many of the themes dedicated to our gallant fighting forces."

Despite the fact that the mummers ranks were depleted during the war years, McClelland denied that a movement was ever instigated to permit women to march.
"They would be as out of place in a mummers parade as on a football field."

Million to See Fete

More than one million spectators are expected to be on hand to welcome the pageant, McClelland explained that this is the first time in four years defense workers will have New Year's Day as a holiday. He also cited the eased traveling in comparison to the war years, and the general desire of the public for gaiety and performances of showmanship.

"We give the public what they like and have the time of our lives doing it," the mummers representative said. "Beauty, elegance and good-natured merriment—what could be a better way to start a New Year."

Gayest Holiday In Years Is Seen

Hotel, Night Club Proprietors Plan Elaborate Shows, Well-Stocked Bars

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—(INS).—The gayest holiday season ever recorded in Pennsylvania was expected today to mark the first peace time Christmas and New Year's celebration since 1940.

Law enforcement officers have alerted forces to meet any emergency when the lid flies off emotions pent-up during wartime stress. All available state police will patrol the highways during the holidays and most local forces planned to maintain regular strength.

Night club and hotel proprietors were expected to go "all out" in the way of entertainment.

According to the Pennsylvania Hotel Association, more elaborate floor shows were being planned for New Year's eve. The choice of entertainers has improved while the scarcity of dining room and kitchen help has eased since the end of the war.

Reservations Made
Reservations were being made early with indications that capacity crowds will be handled in all establishments. Full dress balls and banquets will make a comeback at country clubs and civic halls.

Restaurant menus were expected to surpass those of last year, but beef and butter remained at a premium. Likeliest stocks were more abundant for both dealers and private buyers. Supplies of straight whiskies were scantiest.

Prices of drinks were expected to be kept at last year's levels, although bars will be permitted to serve larger drinks and coast costs accordingly. Most railroads planned to place additional coaches and sleeping cars on the line to speed transportation of service men home on holiday leaves.

Italian Society Elects Officers

Italian Sons and Daughters of America Rinascenta Lodge No. 19 elected a new administration, at their regular meeting in the Lodge hall, 812 Morton street.

New officers elected were: President, Guy Maricardi; vice president, Joseph Zagan; orator, Guy Casaledda; secretary, Requila Maricardi; financial secretary, Noble Di Lorenzo; treasurer, Ralph Morrell; counselors, Vincenzo Parco, Catherine Guirini, Catherine Evangelista, Antonette Vanasco, Maria DeChristopher, master of ceremonies, Philip Sanson; assistant, Hazel Ambrosia; sentinel, Fred Sacripant.

Following the election a bounteous supper was served under the direction of Guy Maricardi, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Maricardi. The club will hold its next meeting in the hall on January 12 at 2:30 p. m.

CLAIM MALARIA CURE
LONDON, Dec. 20.—(INS).—A Reuter Melbourne dispatch said today British chemists claim to have discovered a "completely effective" cure for malaria. The drug, named paludrine, will be made available throughout the world in 1947, the dispatch said.

Sixty-four of 65 soldiers treated were cured, Reuter said, quoting an Imperial Chemical Industries biologist.

Foreign vessels have received the most publicity, but actually nine out of ten American soldiers have been brought home aboard vessels flying the U. S. flag.

ASK NEW TRIAL

A motion for a new trial has been asked for by counsel for Anthony Condella, who was found guilty of manslaughter in the killing of Isaac Ralph Swartzinger on September 15. The motion sets out that the verdict was not according to the weight of the evidence and that the judge erred in several points in his charge to the jury. A hearing will be held later.

Gen. Marshall Has Reached Shanghai

LONDON, Dec. 20.—(INS).—A Reuter dispatch said today that Gen. George C. Marshall, newly-appointed U. S. ambassador to China, had arrived in Shanghai enroute to his first conference with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in Nanking.

Marshall, arriving by plane from Manila, was greeted by Gen. Ho Ying Chin, Chinese central government commander-in-chief. Marshall will fly to Nanking tomorrow.

Mickle Is Named As Successor To David Lawrence

Selected As Interim Chairman Of Democratic State Committee At Harrisburg Meeting

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—(INS)—J. Warren Mickle, of Bedford, was unanimously elected interim chairman of the Democratic state committee at Harrisburg Wednesday to succeed David L. Lawrence, mayor-elect of Pittsburgh.

Mickle, nominated for the post by U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers, of Philadelphia, was elevated from secretary to the chairmanship by the 113-member committee during a special meeting.

An undercover move to oppose the choice of top-ranking leaders, became apparent when Thomas Smith, of Bentleyville, proposed Washington county chairman Harvey Stewart for the post but was unable to persuade a colleague to second the motion.

Lawrence tendered his resignation prior to the balloting and committee members heard U. S. Sen. Joseph E. Guffey warn that much political spadework would be necessary "at the grass roots level" to win the 1946 elections in Pennsylvania.

Gerald R. Lunghofer Re-Enlists In Army

Will Return To Hawaii Following 18 Months Spent In Overseas Duty With Army

Following 32 months of army duty in this country and in the Pacific, Cpl. Gerald R. Lunghofer has re-enlisted for another 18-month " hitch" which will return him to Hawaii.

Receiving his basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark., Cpl. Lunghofer saw service in New Guinea, Saipan, Leyte and has just completed service in Hawaii prior to his furlough.

His duties consisted of a jeep driver for the 316th signal service battalion.

Awards received by Cpl. Lunghofer include the good conduct medal, Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with three battle stars, Philippine Liberation ribbon with two battle stars, American theater ribbon and the World War II victory medal with one star.

POTTED SHRUBS CAN BE IDEAL YULE GIFTS

Nursery stock and potted shrubs are always in demand for Christmas decoration and such plants can always be planted out-of-doors after the Christmas season has past. For those wishing to give "unusual" gifts this year, a few plants suitable for this purpose are suggested.

Small plants of deciduous holly (Ilex verticillata) provide a wealth of fruit. Mahonia, with its colored foliage, Japanese red-leaf barberry, or potted plants of American holly are particularly attractive for decorative purposes. Other attractive evergreens and shrubs recommended for colorful effects are the yews, cotoneasters, the improved coral-berry (symphoricarpos chenaultii), white pines, junipers, retinosporas, and the arbor vitae.

Some attention should be paid to the type of container in which the trees are to be kept until they can be planted outdoors. Butter tubs, painted a dark green, or inexpensive square tubs painted in a similar color may be used. Such gifts can be lasting gifts.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Secretary of the Treasury Vinson today urged American business executives to make the wartime payroll savings plan for buying U. S. bonds available to their employees in the future.

Vinson disclosed that he has just sent a letter to executives of every business of record in the United States employing 100 or more persons, urging them to establish financial independence and at the same time to own a share in their country. Vinson's letter stated:

"The secretary pointed out that during the war, American workers saved more than 20 billion dollars through the payroll savings plan."

Thus, Vinson said, "They have not only provided their government with funds needed to pay for the war but have also provided for themselves a backlog of savings which is vitally important to the peace."

Warns Of Hazards In Wiring Christmas Trees Incorrectly

Fire Chief James F. Thomas today warned persons setting up Christmas trees or other Yule displays, to be extra cautious in wiring them to avoid fire hazards.

Ninety-nine per cent of Christmas fires are caused by short circuits, the fire chief said. The three main causes of Yule fires are:

Bad house wiring which cannot stand the extra load which Christmas tree lights and electrical trains on one circuit.

Electric trains which spark and ignite Christmas tree needles.

Tree lights which are negligently left burning too long, and the heat of the bulb ignites the tree.

Price Warns Of Censorship Danger

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Byron Price, former censorship director, left a parting warning that opinions and criticisms can not and should not be brought "under government restraint."

His final report asserted that censorship "should come into being solely as an instrument of war."

Even in war, Price declared, its work must be confined to (1) depriving the enemy of information and (2) collecting intelligence which can be used against the enemy.

Price left a post as executive news editor of the Associated Press to take over wartime censorship. He brought the censorship to an end with the close of the war, and recently took an executive post with the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

In his report he pointed out that thousands of items of information endangering the nation's security were kept off the radio "by editors and broadcasters under the voluntary censorship program."

Candy-Eating Owl At Big 3 Sessions

MOSCOW, Dec. 20.—(INS)—An Owl with a penchant for chocolate bars and peanut brittle now presides at meetings of the U. S. delegation to the big three ministers' conference.

The bird, traditionally wise, ruffled and old, was discovered last frozen by the Americans today in the driveway of Ambassador Averell Harriman's official residence.

It was brought inside, provided with a perch above the fireplace, and now blinks benignly as matters of state are discussed.

The delegates unanimously agreed that the owl is the "mascot of this American team."

Student Almost Jails His Teacher

PUEBLO, Colo., Dec. 20.—(INS)—

Eugene Lyle, grade school principal in Pueblo, became a kidnap suspect recently—and all because he tried to keep a second-grade youngster from playing hooky.

Lyle learned the youngster had decided to skip the afternoon school session and return home.

He got in his car and set out in pursuit. Lyle found the lad and took several minutes to sell him the idea of returning to school.

A woman observer thought a kidnapping was taking place and called police. It took some time explaining to straighten out the situation.

Says MacArthur And Soviet In Disagreement

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—(INS)—ABC Correspondent Larry Tiehe said today in a broadcast from Tokyo that Russian troops will not participate in the occupation of Japan because of a Soviet disagreement with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Tiehe said the supreme Allied commander differed with Russia over which of the Japanese home islands Red troops would occupy.

The ABC correspondent said the break came after General MacArthur reportedly informed the State department yesterday that he would resign if Russia was permitted further participation in occupation affairs.

"Over a long period, MacArthur and the Russians have been clacking over the problem of the Russian occupation of Japan," Tiehe said.

First, the Russians wanted to bring an Army over here, MacArthur flatly said. He would permit them to bring one division. Finally the Russians agreed.

"But they insisted that they be allowed to occupy Hokkaido, the northernmost of the main Japanese islands," MacArthur again said. "I refused."

MacArthur offered instead to let the Russians into Kyushu, which would put American troops between the homeland and the occupying force. Then the Russians said no. Tiehe's broadcast continued.

MacArthur's answer to that amounted to "alright don't send an occupation force. We don't need it anyway."

Tiehe said he was informed that the Russians now have 60 divisions massed on the Russo-Manchurian border where they had only 38 divisions when the war ended.

Thousands Of Returned Veterans Delayed On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Nearly 100,000 newly returned Pacific war veterans will spend Christmas "stealing it out" along the West Coast away from their homes.

These vets, including Army, Navy and Marine corps personnel, were rushed onto the homestead in a vast race to get them back to their loved ones for America's first peacetime year in five years.

But, due to an unprecedented transportation logjam, Christmas will find them short of their goal, though the goal is in sight.

Men who expected to be with their families on Christmas are understandably disappointed over the prospect of being stranded at service bases because there isn't enough space on trains, planes or ships to go home.

Most of the vets, however, are swallowing their disappointment with good grace and cheerfulness. They may not be home for the quiet family feasts, but at least they'll be in their homeland.

Professor D. H. Dimit, Professor of Chemistry, Indiana State Teachers College and Overseer of the Pennsylvania State Game, delivered an address, "Our Opportunity," before members of the Kiwanis club at the Castleton hotel, as the club met in its annual farm night session.

Speaking Tuesday night, the professor brought out three distinct points in his address. He said that all property springs from the production of wealth and goods. The reward of each should be proportional to a person's contribution to the general welfare. Lastly, Professor Dimit stated that the function of the government is to protect its citizens from oppression, both from within and from without, and to maintain balance.

President Harry Backy presided at the meeting and introduced the following guests: Ralph H. Ransel, chairman of the agriculture committee, and J. Audley Book, past state game master.

School Attendance
Improving Slowly
As 'Flu' Subsides

Only 1470 students were absent from New Castle public schools Wednesday, according to School Superintendent Frank L. Burton.

Although this figure seems large, it represents much improvement over the situation last week, when over 2200 students were absent because of illness on Friday.

"All indications are that the epidemic of influenza is subsiding, and that attendance will be back to normal after the holidays," Mr. Burton said. "Except for several days, we have had very few teachers absent because of illness."

Charge French
With Atrocities

LONDON, Dec. 20.—(INS)—An Australian correspondent charged today that French troops were guilty of atrocities against native animates in Indo-China.

The Saigon correspondent of the Sydney Sun quoted a French field officer as saying the natives feared the revolutionaries more than the French.

French. He added the only way order could be restored in Indo-China was to make the native fear the French more than they did the insurgent nationalists.

According to the Australian correspondent, French troops of "wholesale butchery and torture."

Rubber gloves should be washed and rinsed, dusted with talcum or cornstarch and stored in a cool dark place.

Stream ClearanceReorganization Of State Sanitary Board Is Being Undertaken To AidHARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—(INS)— Reorganization of the state sanitary board was being undertaken today to accelerate Pennsylvania's stream clearance program.The plan, approved by Gov. Edward Martin, calls for the establishment of eight sub-divisions in order to disperse the increased enforcement and assistance load.The employment of additional chemists, bacteriologists, sanitary engineering and division chiefs will be required to handle the expanded program, according to Assistant Chief Engineer J. R. Hoffman.A force of approximately 20 men has shouldered the burden up to this time he added.Need Employees
Although Hoffman refused to state
how many employees would be needed, he said staffs could be assigned to handle municipal sewage projects, state and applications for sewage treatment plants, mine sealing, acid mine water diversion, mine drainage applications, industrial waste requirements, research and control.
The program will become effectiveas soon as personnel can be secured, he stated. The labor shortage was the chief obstacle, he added.
The board's program has shown a genuine and substantial progress and will be accelerated with the integration of the new plan, Hoffman said. "The issuance of cleanup notices to municipalities and industries will be stepped up once the reorganization has taken effect."During a regular meeting the board cited several industries and municipalities and a Montgomery county dairy farm for stream contamination. The units will be identified following their notification to prepare plans for remedial action, according to Hoffman.He said a number of municipalities in the metropolitan Pittsburgh area "would be summoned before the board at its January 16 meeting to explain their failure to 'signify their intention of cooperating' in the sewage treatment program."STEAL CHRISTMAS JEWELRY

Predicts Great Golf Future For Virgil Shreeve

Al Ciuci, Who Knows Golfers From A To Z Says Shreeve Is Coming Star

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—I told you to watch Byron Nelson several years ago, and look what he is today—just the best professional golfer in the business," said Al Ciuci. "Now I'm telling you to watch Virgil Shreeve, that young western star."

Ciuci, one of the innumerable Chicago brothers and a man who takes great pride in his ability to spot budding greatness in the application of the clubhead against a golf ball, insists young Shreeve is one of the standout prospects in years.

Watch Shreeve
"He is only 22 years old, stands five feet, nine and has nearly perfect form. Ciuci went on. "Shreeve looks like a possible Nelson of the future."

Ciuci is seldom wrong when he makes a coming great of the links, because he is recognized among the greatest of golfing teachers.

"This Shreeve is a gallery golfer, too—hits the ball a good country mile with a sound, smooth swing," said Ciuci. "I know most people never heard of him—but mind what I'm telling you."

Ciuci is the head pro at Long Island's famed Fresh Meadow Golf Club. He succeeded Gene Sarazen there, when the latter moved on. Sarazen now is what you might call a part-time golfer—out through, but neither a threat, although he has won something over $6,000 this year in prize money.

Knows Good Golfers
Asked how he could tell a potential star golfer when he sees one, Ciuci said:

"I don't know exactly. You see greatness according to the way good golfers do things and the way it is supposed to be done. You sort of feel it. I guess."

Sarazen himself agreed that Nelson is just about the best we've seen on the links so far.

"As good as Bobby Jones was," said Sarazen. "He could play in only a few tournaments each year. Nelson never does state—he has just about everything."

Sarazen fell to talking about the National Open golf championship to be played again at the Canterbury Club in Cleveland next summer and said he would be there to take another whack at the title he won there.

GENERAL manager of the Cleveland Rams who won the pro grid title from the Washington Redskins in frigid Sunday is Chill Walsh. Chill was warm in his praise of the Rams after victory. . . . Ross White, Lawrence County fish warden, and Cliff Inman, game warden of Butler County, circulated here yesterday. . . . Correct name of yet in the mat game although he has lived more than 60 winters. . . . Hobby of Heavy Orr, the ex-grinder, is a strong, black cigar, followed by another. . . . Calendar No. 3 a work of art, from Carl Becker, steeplejack, has arrived at Here & There. . . . Mickey Forskins Christmas postcard holiday greetings to New Castle fans from Warren. He formerly was a welterweight in Jimmie Dime's squad.

Chauncey Davis, who is recovering fast from what could have proved a fatal auto accident, is happy performing his health duties these days. One son, W-O Norman has arrived from Europe and his daughter, Marion, a WAC has arrived home and Lieut. Harry, his other son, is back in the states from the Pacific and will help to do justice to the turk Christmas day. . . . Frankie Lands, or Bama, former boxer at the Jolly Hawk has taken on weight. . . . There are other records in addition to those set by members in the world of sport: frustration the collection of 1945 taxes by Bernard N. Hanlon who never misses a topnotch sports event. . . . Your Magazine, a Johnson Bronze booklet, published monthly usually has a column of hunting and fishing news.

Jack Bryan, who started his newspaper career cartooning sport figures at the Jolly Hawk about 15 years ago, worked for The News later, then the Sharon Telegraph and is now with the Youngstown Vindicator. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Shannon. He was honorably discharged recently from the army air service. . . . Nick George who pres again for St. Vitus church basketball team, is with the 15th Cavalry squad at Stuttgart, Germany. . . . He sends holiday greetings. . . . Henry McGowan, 18 years old, New York, will umpire in a Class D, Ohio league, next season and hopes to matriculate at Ohio State. . . . Hunters who could find no rabbits during the small game season are now discovering numerous tracks on snow within the city limits.

Fort Sheridan basketball team scored 81 points in its first six games of the season. . . . Mayor's recreation project committee and the city recreation committee which also contains school board members, are cooperating, hence there will be ice skating at Mahoning avenue, Scott street, sledding and basketball the latter for 900 youngsters in public schools. Much good comes from cooperation and harmony. Frankly, Major John F. Haven has informed Here & There that only two juveniles have had to report to the chief of police for several weeks past.

Although fishing is out of style now Charlie Nolan, the street department employee, is hatching plans to land salmon next year. . . . Due O'Brien, former razor and scissors man, has seen a lot of local sport stars go up and down. . . . Don't forget to postcard that friend, ill at home or in a hospital. . . . During small game hunting season Billy Price, son of George, Thorpe street, the bluecoat, accidentally discharged his shotgun blasting a hole in a foot. He has been in bed ever since. However, he is keeping up with his school work. He will also eat his turkey in bed. Christmas but here's hoping the youngster will be around as soon as circumstances permit in the New Year. . . . Jack McCarthy, w. k. dispenser, is the bean brummel of the profession.

Ernie Hill, former middleweight in the Jimmie Dime brigade, called at Here & There. . . . When a somewhat "under-the-weather" gent asked a local barkeep for a "side car" the latter inquired: "Where do you think you are in a garage?" . . . Not even a misanthrope would speak ill of Santa Claus. . . . Here & There knows a misogynist who has already forwarded presents to some other people's off-springs, proving there's good in every man. . . . Bob Waterfield, of the Rams, will draw $20,000 for a 10-game season or $2,000 a game, in 1946. . . . This is the time of year when linemen undergo trying trials to keep your lights burning and your telephone operating. It takes a man to be a lineman. Climbing a steel covered pole during a raging blizzard with wind biting your face is not child's play. Neither is it sport. It's tough!

Hope Sinkwich Changes Mind

DETROIT, Dec. 20.—(INS)—Detroit Lions officials voiced the hope Wednesday that the announcement by Frank Sinkwich, former Lion backfield star, that he is through with football, is just a "Hutson farce."

Sinkwich announced his retirement as a result of a knee injury sustained while playing for the Second Air Force this fall.

Informed members of the Lion's club felt that it was too early to announce a retirement, and that possibly Frankie was listening to offers from the All-American pro league.

Coch Gus Dorais is still hopeful that by the time the 1946 season opens Sinkwich will be back in the Lion fold.

HEARTS-EPWORTH CONTINUE LEAD IN CHURCH LOOP

Sacred Hearts And Epworth Back Up Fourth Straight, St. George Also Wins

Racking up their fourth consecutive win without a defeat in the New Castle Church Basketball League last night, the Sacred Hearts and Epworth continued their cat and dog fight for first place, the latter by downing the Wampum entry, 54 to 21, and Epworth's busting First U. P. 43 to 23.

The St. George Greeks also remained threats to the leaders by winning their fifth game against a lone setback by toppling the Croton team, 35 to 23.

Wainio-Cooper Stars
Scoring stars in the league games were the aging Elmer "Zeke" Wainio of the Epworth team who ran rampant to score 19 points, while Joey Cooper of the Hearts blasted the league for 17 points.

Fred "Pritz" Wimer, former New Castle High star, home from Rhode Island State for the holidays, had 12 of the Epworth points, and little Janacene ran up 11 points for the Hearts. Nickie Lucas, a recent Navy dischargee, paced the Greeks with nine points.

New Castle At Clairton Friday

New Castle Will Seek Third Win Of Year At Clairton Floor Friday Evening

New Castle high school basketball team will go to Clairton Friday night for its fifth game of the pre-league season, and hopes to win its third game, after dropping two in a row the last two times out.

Clairton has a tough team, as evidenced by their record to date, winning three and dropping one. Clairton has defeated Swissvale 32 to 21, Glaspot 32 to 24, Rankin 44 to 26, and just to Wilkinsburg 55 to 25.

Regulars In Shape
New Castle High with all its regulars back in the lineup after a "flu" attack will try hard to upset the Bears and atone in part for the 28 to 28 defeat by Butler last Tuesday.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will probably start the same team that began the Butler game with Koszela and Black at the forwards. Stack at center and Whitaker and Walls at the guards.

Sumpter-Vozar Tough
New Castle will have to devise a means of stopping Earl Sumpter, the big colored Clairton forward who has totaled 38 points in three of the games his team won, being held scoreless against Wilkinsburg and Vozar with 41 points at the other forward post.

New Castle will not play at home again until Saturday night, December 29, meeting the Monessen High team at the Washington gym in the final pre-league warmup. New Castle opens in Section Three on January 4 with the big Ambridge team at New Castle.

Oklahoma Defeated By C.C.N.Y. Five

Oregon, After Four Previous Garden Defeats, Hands Long Island Upset

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—(INS)—The box which hovers over basketball favorites at Madison Square Garden was still going strong today. Eight out of ten choices have lost this season.

Two more choices hit the dust last night. City College of New York upset Oklahoma, 43 to 33, and Oregon University defeated Long Island University, 60 to 50. It was Oregon's first victory in the Garden after four unsuccessful attempts.

City College was trailing 26 to 19 in the second half when it suddenly came to life and became a different team. In addition, City pressing defense upset Oklahoma's shooting so much that the visitors scored only three field goals in the last 18 minutes.

Four Schools Idle As Quintets Square Off In Pre-Christmas Tilts

With the year by St. Nicholas just around the corner, county basketball shows down considerably this Friday night, as high school quintets make one more appearance before adjourning for the Yule holidays.

Princeton At Bessemer
Bill Grooms's Bessemer quintet, made of only one game this season, will do battle with Princeton High's cagers at the Bessemer gym. The Bessemerites were upset by a Louisville O. team in their last outing.

Wagoner High school Indians, defeated Sunday at Elwood City Tuesday night, hope to get a reversal win over Poland High school when they visit the Grooms' gym tomorrow night.

East Brook, after a week's absence, resumes play against the Elwood City reserves in a pairing at the East Brook school.

'Mounties' Play Saturday
The only Saturday night contest finds the Mt. Jackson team playing hosts to the Petersburg O. Jax. The "Mounties" lost in the same club earlier in the season.

New Wilmington's Greysouth, with an unblemished record this week, engaging the strong Mermer Mustangs December 28. Elwood City, Shuang and Union will be idle over the week-end.

NEW CASTLE WINS MATCH
The New Castle Rifle club defeated the strong Beaver Valley Rifle team here last night by 10-0 in the Cathedral range in a regional contest in the Inter-State Rifle league.

AFL Calls Strike For Western Union

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—(INS)—The AFL commercial telegraphers union has set January 7 for a nationwide strike against Western Union.

Some 48,000 employees of the company would be involved in the walkout, which was authorized by the union membership in a strike vote taken by the National Labor Relations Board. The vote was six to one in favor of a strike.

W. L. Allen, president of the CTU, confirmed the January 7 strike date but declined to comment further pending a formal announcement from the union.
